The earliest reports about the surgical suture go back to ancient Egypt. There are pictures from around 3000 BCE showing, among other surgical instruments, a needle with a needle eye.

In Susruta comments to the "Ayur Veda", he mentioned the following suture materials:

- linen and plant fibers
- hair, flax, hemp
- Bow strings, presumably made of sheep gut and, possibly, the first absorbable suture threads
- Bengal ants, whose stiff jaws held together the wound edges

Department of Electronics and Telecommunication of J D College of Engineering and Management, Nagpur which is the first autonomous institute under Dr. Babaseheb Ambedkar Technological University, Lonere with NAAC 'A' grade, organised webinar on "Entrepreneurship Development Phases" for the students under the banner of IETE student forum (ISF), IIIC and IIC for the session 2020-21 on 25th February, 2021.

Mr. Harish Zambani was the speaker for the event. He is the founder of the IIoT Labz Nagpur. Mr. Zambani completed his Engineering graduation from Nagpur university. Mr. Zambani said that as entrepreneur decisions you make along the way affect the next step in your journey. Your entrepreneurship journey may look a little different than the entrepreneur next to you, but you are still on the same trajectory through the phases of entrepreneurship.

The webinar was based on different phases of entrepreneurship development like Big data, taking the plunge, proof of concept, ready for growth and growth and long term footing.

Speaker very well explained what each phase looks like depends on the industry, type of company, approach to entrepreneurship (ie. Risk-averse vs. Risk taker), and your decisions along the way. Not every entrepreneur makes it through the 5 phases of entrepreneurship. It's a tough journey that will test your resiliency many times. But this is an easy trade off for entrepreneurs who like to take risks (whether big or small) because it allows them to take control over their own career. You just have to survive to make it.
